

Creating a Better Critical Care

Environment

Please join us for an interactive exploration on how we can make our critical care environment better.

JUNE 5, 2017

9:00 am to 2:30 pm

Moving from Moral Distress to Moral Integrity in Intensive Care Units

Dr. Peter Dodek MD

Moral distress develops when professionals believe they know what the right thing to do is, but feel powerless to act because of internal or external constraints. In this presentation I will describe studies that have measured the magnitude, causes, and consequences of moral distress in ICU personnel. In addition, I will present information about a new, interactive on-line tool to assess moral conflict and resilience.

How Healthy is Your Workplace?

Dr. Sandra Goldsworthy RN

An interactive presentation exploring the current state of critical care nursing environments with the aim to discuss challenges, opportunities and innovations that can improve the work environment, thus ultimately enhancing job satisfaction, promote nurse retention.

PANEL DISCUSSION

Facing the Critical Care Nurse Shortage Together: A Multifaceted Approach

CATERED LUNCH
Sponsored by Phillips

Fast & Focused Presentations

It could be you!

Download the form from http://www.caccn.ca/en/chapters/bc/educational_events.html and submit your abstract to bclm@caccn.ca

EVENT FOLLOWED BY THE BC CHAPTER AGM 2:30-3:30 PM

Free to attend the AGM and everyone is welcome.

While the AGM is free, The Event is $25

CACCN members get a $10 rebate upon arrival.

Become a CACCN member by July 1st, and the rebate will be mailed to you.

Register by email at bclm@caccn.ca

CACCN